

Public Notice

Until recently, the only way to follow a case in PACER was to repeatedly visit the PACER site and check for updates. This has changed with recent versions of CM/ECF. Illinois Southern Bankruptcy Court now provides automatic case notification through the use of RSS feeds. Subscribe to the court's free RSS feed to receive automatic notification of activity in all cases including summarized text, such as the name of the document filed, and links to the document and docket report. Results may be sorted by date or case title.

There are many commercially-available RSS readers, which offer the capability of organizing and filtering the results further to meet your specific needs. To view the documents or docket reports linked from the RSS feed, users must login to PACER, and will incur applicable fees.

To subscribe to the court's RSS feed, click the Court Information link at the bottom of the CM/ECF login page. A Court Details section will display and there is a link to subscribe to the court's RSS feed. At any given time, the feed displays all entries meeting the court's criteria that have been docketed within the last 12 hours.
